§ 194-98. Walls and fences.

[Amended 10-26-2006 by L.L. No. 4-2006; 2-27-2014 by L.L. No. 2-2014; 6-22-2017 by L.L. No. 2-2017]

- A. Retaining walls. The yard requirements of this chapter shall not be deemed to prohibit any necessary retaining wall. Retaining walls four feet in height or less do not require a permit. Retaining walls greater than four feet in height require engineered drawings approved by the Building Department/Engineer and a fence/wall permit from the Building Department. See table below.
- B. Fences and walls (not retaining). On any residential property, the finished side of the fence shall face the adjoining property, and all exposed stands and braces shall face the interior property. All fences or walls exceeding four feet must be decorative. Chain link fences shall not exceed four feet in height in any yard of a residential district. Fence and walls over four feet must be installed two feet in from any lot line. Fences and walls four feet in height or less may be erected in any yard and do not require a permit. Fences and walls greater than four feet in height and less than six feet in height may be erected behind the front line of a house with a fence/wall permit from the Building Department. Fences and walls exceeding four feet in height and located in front of the front line of a house and all fences and walls exceeding six feet in height require a variance from the Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA) and a wall/fence permit from the Building Department. See table below.
